He Gets Reassignment At Meeting of Committee

PINE SWAMP'S REV. BIXLER SENT BACK TO HIS CHURCH

The Rev. Donald T. Floyd has come back to Pottstown for at least another year.

Announcement of his reassignment for a ninth year as pastor of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church was made in Lebanon last night at 9:15 o'clock, during the final session of the denominational conference.

Along with another area pastor, the Rev. John H. Bixler, of Pine Swamp Evangelical, the Rev. Floyd was the first man to come back to his church for a ninth year since the eight year tenure rule was voted down the past week.

Reassignment of the Rev. Floyd to his Pottstown charge was made by a stationing committee composed of Bishop John A. Smith and the two presiding elders of the denomination.

Thirty-two members of Trinity Evangelical church were present at the conference when the report of the committee was read by Bishop Smith.

They had traveled to the final conference session in a chartered bus to hear the report.

AFTER THE SESSION, just before they returned to Pottstown, they were visited in the bus by the Rev. Harold H. Scanlin, presiding elder of the Pottstown district.

The Rev. Scanlin challenged the members to continue the co-operation and growth he said they had shown during the past eight years.

After his short talk the members, joined in a brief period of song and prayer before starting their trip back home.

Baby Smiles as Pete, The Parakeet Returns

Seven months old is too young for most things, but not too young to know that a long-lost parakeet is back in its cage.

The parakeet, Pete, owned by Mrs. Richard Shadler, 27 West Fifth street, flew away the past Wednesday. The seven-month-old baby, Chrystal Shadler, who liked to watch the bird in its cage, kept looking at the cage, but unhappily, the mother reported.

Pete was back home yesterday. Mrs. Shadler learned through a news item in Saturday's Mercury that a lost parakeet, almost dead from exhaustion, had been found and turned over to Paul Kuburn, Pottstown pet shop owner.

Pete revived with care and was as chipper as ever last night. The baby was looking at the cage and smiling.

ESCAPES DEATH Five-Year-Old Boy Plunges Into Pool, 3 Others Save Him From Drowning

A 5-year-old Pottstown boy became the second child in recent years to come close to drowning in a deep pool with a low wall around it at the end of North Penn street, it was learned yesterday.

Frank "Buddy" Guest, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Guest, 276 North Hanover street, was pulled out by his 9-year-old brother, Wilmer, and two young friends Sunday afternoon after he slipped off the three-foot-high concrete retaining wall.

The friends, 11-year-old Melvin Dunning, 228 North Penn street, and 10-year-old Francis Delibertis, 229 North Penn street, said they believed the 5-year-old had gone down either two or three times before he was rescued.

The three ran to his aid and pulled him out after hearing the splashing while they were playing nearby.

At four minutes to midnight the "phone rang. Hartenstein started in his chair. He'd been expecting this call. He knew his son, after a year overseas, was on his way home aboard a troopship from Japan.

But for a minute, he couldn't believe it. He let the "phone ring a couple of times to make sure it was real. It was.

HE PICKED up the receiver. San Francisco was calling. Corp. Earl Hartenstein was on the "phone. Hartenstein talked to his son for a few minutes, then called his wife. She talked with her boy and excitement ran high around the small home.

The call was somewhat brief. It had taken Corporal Hartenstein three hours to place it, and there were hundreds of other GI's from the ship still waiting to make their calls.

But it was long enough for the family to fully savor the good news. Their son was home from the wars.

He'll be back in Pottstown on Sunday. His family can hardly wait.

TWO YEARS AGO the Delibertis boy had pulled out a cousin, Valentine Delibertis, 151 South Franklin street, after the cousin had thought erroneously that the ice on the pool was thick enough to support him.

The big rectangular pool, which is close to six feet deep, is beneath the high water tank at the rear of the Loomcraft Frocks, incorporated plant, north of Third and Penn streets, where Penn street ends.

It is on private property, and in addition to the low wall, there is a sign post along the front of it saying "Danger—Deep Water—Keep Away."

The five-year-old was brought home soaking wet by the three young rescuers. After drying him off and changing his clothes, his mother went out with the older boys to see what had happened.

THE BOY admitted to his mother that he had been climbing on the big square pipe that runs upward at a steep angle from the plant toward the tank, over the pool.

Mrs. Guest said, "I've warned him and warned him to keep away from there, but—"

The 5-year-old made the danger.

TOWN PERMITS CHEAP RENTAL OF EQUIPMENT

Local Contractors Say Borough Machinery Leased for Less

DON'T KNOW WHO FIGURED RATES. OFFICIALS REPORT

The borough of Pottstown is underbidding just about every private contractor in town on the rental of its highway department equipment.

A spot check of several private contractors in town yesterday revealed that you can rent the borough's roller and grader for less than you can those of private firms.

The fact that the borough has been in competition with private business for more than 25 years was brought to light the past week when several citizens saw the borough's roller tamping down crushed rock on the property of a North Charlotte street gas station.

The roller displayed the letters on its side, "Borough of Pottstown Highway Department."

The roller is rented to private individuals or firms at a charge of $4 an hour.

THAT PRICE INCLUDES a man from the highway department to operate the machine, and a tank-full of gasoline.

For the same service from a private firm, you'd have to pay about $7 an hour.

That's what several contractors who rent machinery said yesterday.

One contractor said that the smallest roller he has rents for $3 an hour.

The borough's roller tips the scales at about eight tons, when its ballast chamber is fully loaded with water.

The borough also rents out its grader for $6 an hour.

One contractor said his grader costs customers $8.50 an hour.

NO ONE in borough hall seemed to know when the practice of renting out machinery first started, though Borough Secretary William Shaeffer said it probably goes back to "20 or 25 years ago."

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden and Highway Foreman Walter Runyan said last night that they didn't know who set the rates for the rental of the equipment, either.

But, besides the fixed rentals, several other rules and regulations, also without known origins, have survived through the years.

For instance, the small home owner can't rent the roller for one hour to fix his driveway.

THE ROLLER has to be rented for a minimum of two hours on each job, and since most home owners don't usually have jobs that require more than one hour's work they seldom get the benefit of the low rental.

Bigger companies, like "gas" stations, even some of the bigger industrial plants in the borough, usually have jobs that require the use of the equipment for longer periods.

Hartenstine was watching a late wrestling bout on television, while Mrs. Hartenstein, exhausted after a Monday's housework, was taking a brief snooze.

Thomas Memorial Is Turned Over to Historical Society

Dedication and presentation of the Isaac Thomas memorial was made last night at Pottsgrove Manor, to the Pottstown Historical society.

The memorial, a dining room in Pottsgrove Manor is furnished with Chippendale furniture which dates back to the mid-1700's.

It was furnished through contributions by members and friends in memory of the late Isaac Thomas, one of the former presidents of the society and charter member.

Following a brief talk by Mrs. James I. Wendell, president, the room was formally presented to the society by Helen Purnell, chairman of the memorial fund committee.

THE REMAINDER of the evening was devoted to the presentation of the book, "The History of Pottstown," which is on sale for the first time today.

Paul Chancellor, editor and writer of the book, offered brief remarks on how the material was gathered.

Others giving short talks were Paul Westcott of West Chester, who is typographer and illustrator of the book, and Melvin I. Ferne, printer.

Following the gathering refreshments were served.

Airport Authority of 8 Asked In Basco's Two Proposals At Fiery Committee Session

BY MERCURY STAFF WRITER ROBERT E. HOYER

Council's airport committee last night exploded like a Roman candle in an empty milk bottle.

It was the most volatile airport meeting in borough history. Insults rang through the cigar smoke and echoed into the corridors of Pottstown's 29-year-old borough hall.

When all the sparks had fallen the committee voted to consider two requests of Airport Manager John J. Basco:

1. The building of six aluminum hangars by Basco on a 15-year lease plan at an estimated cost of $15,000.
2. The requested support of eight civic leaders, listed by Basco, to help the committee promote the airport.

Mechanical War May Erupt Against Insects Before June

Life soon will be made miserable for Pottstown's mosquito and tick population.

Council's health and sanitation committee will attend a demonstration of mist and fog machines, employed against ticks and mosquitoes, a week from today.

Members last night listened to mist and fog men extol the good points of their products and voted to delay decision on purchase of a fog or mist sprayer.

The committee expects to decide on a purchase after watching the machines in operation.

A representative last night said his mist machine was better than the fog type because mist settles and fog tends to rise.

A FOG MAN said his sprayer was better because it is the only type which can be practically used in a borough like Pottstown.

The committee hopes to recommend purchase of one of the three machines at the May 11 session of council.

If council approves the purchase war on insects in the borough will begin as soon as the equipment is received, probably by the end of May.

Gulden explained, "I understand both fog and mist men are here." He read the features of each machine and then asked representatives to explain their merchandise.

A second mist man asked for the demonstration. He said the three machines were different and committee members should see for themselves the virtues of the various sprayers.

THE OTHER MIST man said you can only use the equipment during favorable weather. Wind conditions must be proper. He said early morning and late afternoon or early evening usually are the best times for spraying.

Fire Sweeps Firm's Locker Room, Employees Lose $5500 in Valuables

Hungry flames ate through more than $5500 worth of the clothes and paper money of workers at Eastern Foundry company, Boyertown, yesterday morning in a fire which gutted a locker room.

The fire caused an estimated $6000 damage to the locker-room, bringing the total loss to more than $11,500, according to Boyertown Fire Chief Jack Stauffer.

The room, in which the fire was confined, measured about 25 feet by 40 feet.

The bulk of the plant's more than 300 employees use the room for changing into working clothes and taking showers after work.

The workers had finished changing when flames broke out.

RESIDES THE loss of clothing—jackets, suits, trousers, shirts, sport coats, shoes—most of the men lost money they had left in their trouser pockets.

One man lost $100 in bills. Another had $50 go up in flames. A third was hit for $45.

One man lost $22 he had brought to work with him to pay a bill.

THE FIRE was discovered at 8:45 a. m. by Stanley Eisenhardt. According to Fire Chief Stauffer, the man discovered the fire while working outside of the locker-shower room.

Eisenhardt heard several windows crash. He opened the door to the room to investigate and was met by a rush of flames.

Dark Clouds Dampen Spirits Here Despite Little April Rain

Funny, nobody's yet taken the urge to shoot the weatherman. But some Pottstonians darkly muttering at today's clouds were thought to be considering the step.

This has not been a record month, yet, unless the honor can be awarded for just plain orneriness. Rainfall stands now at 3.98 inches for the month.

For some strange reason, it didn't rain much yesterday. That one cynic muttered, was because everybody expected it to do just that. Even the weatherman predicted scattered showers.

But it was one April day without its abundance of showers which, in addition to dousing picnics, people and streets, are supposed to bring May flowers.

THE TEMPERATURE for the day remained for the most part in the 60's or down in the 50's. It couldn't be called, in contrast to Sunday, a warm day. The temperature chart for the week in The Mercury office looks like a First-graders map of the South Pole.

But it hasn't yet—hit the record low of April 25, 1919, when it dipped below freezing.

The weatherman hasn't said anything about lows in his report for today. In fact, he says it will be pretty much like yesterday. Temperatures will run in the 50's and (Continued on Page Two)

Many Shoppers Will Hunt in Town For Bargains on Profit-Sharing Day

Shoppers are expected to flock into Pottstown's business section from miles around tomorrow, to take advantage of the bargains being offered during Profit-Sharing Day.

The sales event, sponsored by the Mercantile bureau, lasts only the one day, tomorrow, to give everybody a crack at the hundreds of specials. Participating merchants will have their stores open for 11 1/2 hours.

They'll open at 9:30 a. m. and not close until 9 p. m.

Managers of participating stores have stressed that the Profit-Sharing Day is not a clearance. Fresh, new merchandise will be featured consistently, they declared.

The bargains will not be confined to certain kinds of merchandise, they continued. There will be specially-priced merchandise in almost every line.

The Mercantile bureau also stressed that there should be plenty of parking space available in the downtown business section.

Shoppers are being urged by merchants to come early and make it a full and profitable day in town.

A spot check of several private contractors in town yesterday revealed that you can rent the borough's roller and grader for less than you can those of private firms.

The fact that the borough has been in competition with private business for more than 25 years was brought to light the past week when several citizens saw the borough's roller tamping down rough rock on the property of a North Charlotte street gas station.

The roller displayed the letters on its side - Borough of Pottstown Highway Department.

The roller is rented to private individuals or firms at a charge of $4 an hour.

THAT PRICE INCLUDES a man from the highway department to operate the machine and a tank full of gasoline.

For the same service from a private firm, you'd have to pay about $7 an hour.

That's what several contractors who rent machinery said yesterday.

One contractor said that the smallest roller he has rents for $5 an hour.

The borough's roller tips the scales at about eight tons when its ballast chamber is fully loaded with water.

The borough also rents out its grader for $6 an hour.

One contractor said his grader costs customers $3.50 an hour.

NO ONE in borough had seemed to know when the practice of renting out machinery first started, though Borough Secretary William Shaeffer said it probably goes back to 20 or 25 years ago.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden and Highway Foreman Walter Kunyan said last night that they didn't know who set the rates for the rental of the equipment, either.

But besides the fixed rentals, several other rules and regulations, also without known origins, have survived through the years.

For instance, the small home owner can't rent the roller for one hour to fix his driveway.

THE ROLLER has to be rented for a minimum of two hours on each job and since most home owners don't usually have jobs that require more than one hour's work, they seldom get the benefit of the low rental.

Bigger companies like gas stations, even some of the bigger industrial plants in the borough usually have jobs that require the use of the equipment for longer periods.

Thomas Memorial
Is Turned Over to Historical Society

Dedication and presentation of the Isaac Thomas memorial was made last night at Pottsgrove Manor to the Pottstown Historical Society.

The memorial, a dining room in Pottsgrove Manor is furnished with Chippendale furniture which dates back to the mid 1700's.

It was furnished through contributions by members and friends in memory of the late Isaac Thomas, one of the former presidents of the society and charter member.

Following a brief talk by Mrs. James I. Wendell, president of the society, was formally presented to the society by Helen Purnell, chairman of the memorial fund committee.

THE REMAINDER of the evening was devoted to the presentation of the book, "The History of Pottstown," which is on sale for the first time today.

Paul Chancellor, editor and writer of the book, offered brief remarks on how the material was gathered.

Others giving short talks were Paul Westcott of West Chester, who is typographer and illustrator of the book, and Melvin I. Ferne, printer.

Following the gathering refreshments were served.

Airport Authority of 8 Asked In Basco's Two Proposals At Fiery Committee Session

By Mercury Staff Writer Robert E. Hoyer

Council's airport committee last night exploded like a Roman candle in an empty milk bottle.

It was the most volatile airport meeting in borough history. Insults rang through the cigar smoke and echoed into the corridors of Pottstown's 29-year old borough hall.

When all the sparks had fallen the committee voted to consider two requests of Airport Manager John J. Basco.

1. The building of six aluminum hangars by Basco on a 15-year lease plan at an estimated cost of $15,000.

2. The requested support of eight civic leaders, listed by Basco, to help the committee promote the airport.

Chairman Wilbert O'Dell promised another meeting would be called in the next three weeks or month to act on the two proposals.

This was accomplished after nearly two hours of insult without injury. Charge was met with countercharge.

BASCO ASKED for the establishment of an airport authority to help promote the Municipal field.

Paul P. Kohler, second ward councilman who the past week said Basco can't come up with a concrete plan to make the airport pay off, it should be leased to a private industry, engaged in bitter running battles with Basco.

O'Dell and I. Wayne Knause, veteran Seventh ward councilman, Knause said the past week after Kohler's remarks, he wouldn't be surprised if the people of Pottstown ran Kohler out of town on a rail for the statements he made about the airport.

The pressure mounted at last night's meeting as insult piled on insult and as the two political rivals Knause a Republican and Kohler, a Democrat, waited for a loosening of the guard.

KNAUSE fluted the first haymaker. While Kohler was in a deadly verbal embrace with O'Dell, the Seventh ward councilman snapped, "If Mr. Kohler has a plan for the airport, why doesn't he present it?"

Kohler angrily referring to Knause's remarks of the past week, steamed, "I'm ashamed of you, Wayne. Any man in council who'd talk like that."

Knause yelled, "You're ashamed."

Kohler hoarse from arguing all during the meeting, said (Continued on Page Two)

THE OTHER MIST man said you can only use the equipment during favorable weather. Wind conditions must be proper. He said early morning and late afternoon or early evening usually are the best times for spraying.

The fog man said his machine is better because it is the only type which can be practically used in a borough like Pottstown.

The committee hopes to recommend purchase of one of the three machines at the May 11 session of council.

If council approves the purchase war on insects in the borough will begin as soon as the equipment is received, probably by the end of May.

Gulden explained I understand both fog and mist men are here. He read the features of each machine and then asked representatives to explain their merchandise.

Fire Sweeps Firm's Locker Room,
Employees Lose $5500 in Valuables

Hungry flames ate through more than $5500 worth of the clothes and paper money of workers at Eastern Foundry company, Bovertown yesterday morning in a fire which gutted a locker room.

The fire caused an estimated $6000 damage to the locker shower room bringing the total loss to more than $11,500, according to Bovertown Fire Chief Jack Stauffer.

The room in which the fire was confined, measured about 25 feet by 40 feet.

The bulk of the plant's more than 300 employees use the room for changing into working clothes and taking showers after work.

The workers had finished changing when flames broke out.

BESIDES THE loss of clothing, jackets, suits, trousers, shirts, sport coats, shoes—most of the men lost money they had left in their trouser pockets.

One man lost $100 in bills. Another had $80 go up in flames. A third was hit for $45.

One man lost $25 he had brought to work with him to pay a bill.

THE FIRE was discovered at 4:45 a. m. by Stanley Eisenhard. According to Fire Chief Stauffer, the man discovered the fire while working outside of the locker shower room.

Eisenhard heard several windows crash. He opened one door to the room to investigate and was met by a rush of flames.

The alarm was sounded and (Continued on Page Two)

Dark Clouds Dampen
Spirits Here Despite
Little April Rain

Funny, nobody's yet taken the time to shoot the weatherman. But some Pottstowners darkly muttering at today's clouds were thought to be considering the step.

This has not been a record month, yet unless the honor can be awarded for just plain ordinary weather. Rainfall stands now at 3.98 inches for the month.

For some strange reason it didn't rain much yesterday. That, one cynic muttered, was because everybody expected it to do just that. Even the weatherman predicted scattered showers.

But it was one April day with out its abundance of showers which in addition to nipping people and streets are supposed to bring May flowers.

THE TEMPERATURE for the day remained for one hour in the 40's or down in the 30's. I couldn't be called in contrast to Sunday, a warm day. The temperature chart for the week in the Mercury office looks like a first grader's map of the South Pole.

But it hasn't yet—yet—but the record low of April 25, 1919, when it dipped below freezing.

The weatherman hasn't said anything about lows in his report for today. In fact he says it will be pretty much like yesterday. Temperatures will run in the 40's and (Continued on Page Two)

Airport Authority Requested

... "Yes, I'm ashamed of you."

Knause roared, "And I'm ashamed of you. Any man who carries on like you do..."

Kohler snarled, "You're just a man with a small mind..."

KNAUSE countered, "And I suppose you're a small man with a big mind..."

Kohler, red faced and roaring, "That's right, that's right, all men with a big mind..."

Knause cut back, "That's what I'm thinking..."

The Kohler asserted, "That's what I'm thinking. Any man who makes remarks to me I can't make the thing go..."

Knause, raising his voice above the din shouted, "I mean everything I said, and I'd say it again. In your estimation no one in here has a brain but you and you won't admit it..."

Basco pitched a dart at Kohler, "You're just a small man with a big mouth..."

Charles S. Grubb, Ninth ward, took his head in reference to the list of Basco and said, "Those men are too busy for stuff like this..."

He was referring to the explosion of committee tempers...

ASKING for the creation of airport authority Basco submit the following names: Howard Bartholomew, Raymond Sidney Lock, Raymond H. Pierol, Al C. Seawell, Dr. Grant J. Rott, Edmund K. Lindemuth, C. Edmund Wells and C. Roy Bush, borough leaders interested in development of the airport.

Solicitor C. Edmund Wells said an authority would have more power than the committee, but added men interested in aviation with the time to devote to the airport might help promotion of the field.

O'Dell opened the session at 10 and asked Basco to state his case.

The airport manager began, "I'd like to ask you gentlemen a question. I'd like to know if your job as a committee is constructive to see how many criticisms you make..."

O'DELL INTERRUPTED that the committee has or does a little bearing on your job."

Basco asked, "How am I going to operate the airport if I don't know what you want? I never saw you from the committee up here..."

O'Dell said, "We're not primarily interested in the method of operation up here..."

Basco cut in, "I don't think the man who's making all the criticisms know what he was talking about. He said we're the only borough of our size with a municipal airport. I know of 12 municipal airports west of Harrisburg..."

The manager was referring to Kohler's comment the past Wednesday when he said, "I've checked various people..." and I've found that we are about the only one in our size in the State with our own municipal airport."

Basco charged, "I don't think the committee we have now is going to help too much. I've been traveling through the State and checking other airports and a number of them function with authority. I think the committee and council should work on the idea creating an authority. As to fact you're not interested in methods..."

O'DELL explained, "We assume you have a prior knowledge of airport operation. That's why we've asked you. We're not questioning your methods. You're getting a little off the track..."

Basco asserted, "Well, maybe Kohler who has so many criticisms is to raise money in small communities..."

O'Dell asked Kohler, "Paul, if we're going to refer to plans maybe we should hear from you. I read last week how you have a lot of ideas on the airport..."

Kohler emphasized, "I want to put the airport on a paying basis. That's principally what I'm concerned with..."

O'Dell charged, "Do you know what the airport costs the borough?" Kohler said, "You should know as chairman..."

O'Dell countered, "I do know. I just wanted to see if you knew what you're talking about..."

Wells interrupted, "If you're so avid in asking questions, why don't you come up with some answers. The only proposal you've made so far is entirely illegal..."

Wells was referring to Kohler's suggestion the airport be taken completely out of the borough's hands.

Kohler asked why the borough could lease hangar space to Basco or space to Pilots club of Pottstown.

Wells assured him the procedure was legal. Mrs. Catherine Wolf, secretary of the pilots club said the organization would like to lease space for a building.

Kohler asked Basco, "How long do you think it will take to put the airport on a paying basis?" Wells asserted, "I can throw some light on that. At the time the State gave us the figures on the airport several years ago they said it would take five or six years..."

A Matter of Civic Pride
To the Editor: I can't agree enough council is throwing money away on the municipal airport and in the meantime telling people of Pottstown they have no money to spend on badly needed streets.
No one can come up with an idea for rebuilding or building streets which would not involve a cost for the taxpayer.
The reason for this terrible state of affairs can be traced to the lack of former councilmanic bodies enforcing contractors of housing projects to include sound streets in their plans. Thanks to our present council that cannot happen anymore.
It seems to me our community in years past had lacked trying to build civic pride by not sponsoring projects which people could point to with real satisfaction. Such much needed projects as, centrally located parks, civic rest rooms, civic swimming pools which many communities far less than the size of Pottstown have enjoyed for years.
Now we have an airport. Is it not a matter of real pride when we tell persons of other communities that Pottstown has its own airport?
According to the borough manager's figures, approximately $1190 has been spent annually over the past three years for its maintenance.
How many streets would this sum build?
If this expenditure was made into a saving our great grandchildren's children would still be waiting for better streets.
Maybe the airport is not paying off at present-but it will before many years.
Does it make sense to even talk about leasing it?
Let's not be a party to defeating the

Borough Now in Business?

POTTSTOWN citizens may have been startled to learn that the borough now is invading the field of private business. Many a person wondered if the Pottstown highway committee knew its equipment was being used for private work. The query resulted when it was learned the borough road roller was being used on a private enterprise on North Charlotte street.

What's worse, the borough manager's office didn't seem to know anything about the assignment. But the highway superintendent did report later that a gasoline station has requested the use of the roller equipment and planned to pay for the work.

The charge for use of the borough equipment was $4 an hour, borough hall reported. Now there's a question of whether the borough can afford to hire out its equipment at that price.

First of all, the operator of the roller is paid more than $1.50 a hour. Then there's a certain amount of supervision required by the superintendent of highways, it is presumed.

Thirdly, the roller uses a great deal of gasoline. Fourth, the cost of overhead, insurance, bookkeeping and executive administration runs high. Fifth and finally, the cost of equipment evidently isn't figured in that low amount.

Private enterprise, it was said yesterday, charged $7 to $8 an hour. The borough's price of $4 an hour doesn't sound like fair competition, especially since the private contractors are taxpayers who helped buy the road rollers!

Use of the road roller on a private job indicates that the borough can't supply enough work to keep it busy!

If that is so, why are there so many unfilled holes in the borough streets?

There was a time, and it wasn't so long ago, that borough street workers were complaining they couldn't do a good job of street repair because they had to tamp the cold fill used in holes by hand.

"We need a road roller!" they declared. "We've got it now..." and they use it on private jobs!

That business of road rollers has given many a citizen many a chuckle in the past few years. The borough has had quite a few road rollers in the past 20 years.

A new roller was bought back around 1936. That roller was allowed to stand outside in all sorts of weather, and you can imagine the results. It didn't exactly rust away, but it was incapacitated for many months because it was alleged the engine block was cracked when water froze in it one bitter cold night.

That placed this roller on the sidelines. The borough couldn't use it. Didn't use it. Finally it was traded in on a new roller now being used here.

The borough doesn't make any money on renting the roller. It may be farmed out two or three times a year. A close check may show the borough actually loses money on such business.

The highway department should investigate this matter thoroughly. It especially should inquire into who orders the use of the roller on private jobs. Who is supposed to be supervising borough equipment and its use?

There is danger in this practice. It leads many a citizen to wonder if it wouldn't be wiser to contract for all street work, for all repair work, for all new street construction.

It's Not Too Early

MAKE your vacation plans early if you don't want to be caught short. Vacation spots will be crowded and costly this Summer, according to all the advance signs. Resorts will be full up, with prices as high, or higher, than last year's. National and state parks are already swamped with reservations.

As for vacations abroad, you'll be lucky to get accommodations at this late date.

The cheapest vacationing can usually be done in the state and national parks and at public camp sites said "Changing Times." With a few exceptions, these are for the people who like the rough-it kind of rest and relaxation.

For others, out-of-the-way spots, where the food is good and the decor not so fancy, offer the best opportunity for keeping costs within reason.

WASHINGTON South America Swept With Anti-US Feelings

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, April 27—Responsible spokesmen for the 20 South American republics cannot admit it openly, but they are not altogether satisfied with President Eisenhower's decision to send his brother to them as a good will ambassador. They need more substantial help than Ike's young kinsman, Milton, can offer them as an offset to growing Communist infiltration from the Rio Grande to the Magellan straits.

The Latins have been loaded down with big-name visitors from the United States in the past 25 years, including three Presidents and several Secretaries of State.

All have proclaimed their friendship and admiration for our continental cousins, and given pledges of greater cooperation than we have shown in the past. FDR capped these professions with the so-called "good neighbor" policy. Cordell Hull strove earnestly to make that program a reality.

EMBITTERED RELATIONS: But the fact remains that relations between these countries in our own back yard and the United States are becoming more embittered every day. Whether the hostility toward us be labelled as communism, Peronism or just plain anti-Yanquism, a wave of ill feeling toward us is sweeping the area.

Although the Truman Administration poured out almost $10 billion in post war aid throughout the globe, the twenty South American republics received less than a billion. There have been attempts to shut off their exports to this country, to knock down the prices on their goods in world trade, and to impose harsh terms on public and private loans.

The reaction has been anti-American demonstrations, expropriation of foreigners' property, refusal to give us air bases for safeguarding the Panama Canal. The Latins have provided almost no military assistance in Korea or elsewhere.

FUTURE SOUTH-AMERICAN POLICY

Recent Eisenhower-Dulles proclamations on future South American policy will plague brother Milton on his gliding tour. Although the Administration plans to increase its military and economic contributions in the Middle East and Indo-China, it has warned that even the slim pickings for South America will be reduced. It is, perhaps, one of the important blunders at Washington, although overshadowed by more clamorous developments overseas.

What the South Americans want as a sign of North American sincerity is a study of its needs and possibilities by a capable commission, such as Ike has named to survey so many domestic problems. Officially and unofficially, our few friends in office there have suggested a Hoover-style body of businessmen, industrialists, bankers, engineers and policy-making officials from Washington.

Milton Eisenhower hardly meets those requirements. From Coolidge's day until 1942, when his brother had become famous, he served as a press agent in Agriculture. During the expensive Wallace-Tugwell regime, he conceived the idea for the office of Land Coordinator, which would try to make sense of his two superiors' various experiments. He promoted himself to the position. He is now president of Penn State College.

progress of the future of Pottstown. Our citizens must keep in mind the airport is theirs and is not to be used for political purposes. Remember, one of the very few things our rapid expanding community can point to as a landmark for the future is the airport.

Port-town ERNEST C. HURTER

All Day Garages Here

To the Editor: Our community is often referred to as a town of street garages. A thorough Spring house cleaning is very much necessary and now is a excellent time to start to eliminate these conditions, especially the central residential section should receive careful consideration.

King street between Washington and Warren streets has ten traffic signs erected to route the motorist that only 10 hours parking is allowed between 3 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Very few drivers observe the signs and automobile drivers are constantly daily violating the parking law.

Nothing unusual to see cars parked all day in front of a two hour parking sign, and very often cars may be seen parked for several days before moved by the motorists.

King street between Washington and Warren streets is really a traffic bottleneck in the week days, especially between the hours of 3:15 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Mr. Laughhead and Mr. Strange could find the traffic problem interesting between 9 a.m. and 12 noon then again the most important time between 3:15 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Should Mr. Laughhead and Mr. Strange conduct for several days a personal investigation into the situation they certainly could be amazed with the large amount of overtime traffic violators.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DANNY T. is a bright youngster. 'I wish m. Daddy would play with me the way other children's fathers do,' he soberly confessed to his school teacher.

'When he comes home from the office he just wants to sit down and read his paper. He says for me to run along and not bother him.'

I can't skate very well but he doesn't teach me how. Then he tells me to go out and play with the big boys, but they leave me behind.

'Maybe if I had a little brother to play with it wouldn't be so bad but I don't have even a puppy.'

MOST MEN WANT to be good Dads, but they often don't know how or even when they do know they tend to forget. Or they are so depleted in energy that they procrastinate.

So one good way to relieve yourself of much of the responsibility for socializing your child is to give him some brothers or sisters.

True the latter may engage him in quarrels and reconciliations but those experiences help socialize him.

The younger children also imitate the older and the older thereupon experience some of the sobering influences of seeing that they must set a good example before the younger.

In games the older child instructs the younger thus relieving father of much of this job.

IF THERE ARE several youngsters in the family they enjoy a feeling of greater security when they are out at play, for they know they belong together and will defend each other.

This sense of social unity is very gratifying to a child's ego for the average child wants to have friends and defenders.

He feels somewhat shy and uncertain of himself in a crowd, but if he has some siblings therein, he enjoys more self-confidence, realizing that his brothers or sisters will come to his rescue.

Dog War Urged

To the Editor: Off with their heads, I say!

That's the way to get rid of the stray dogs that plague us property owners—go after 'em with an axe.

This method may seem drastic to the squeamish, but I have no doubt that it would be effective.

What home owner's hands have not itched for a lethal weapon when he has looked out the window to see some mongrel running his shrubbery or rooting in his tulip bed?

Things have reached the point in this dirty age where the dog population is outstripping that of humans.

If we wish to live in peace in this time we started cutting down the canines—and I mean the kind of cutting you do with a keen edged blade.

Pottstown DR. GUILLOTIN

Hopes Manager is Right

To the Editor: I hope our borough manager knows what he's talking about. I have no reason to doubt his promises to date. So far, he's been a man of action.

He's predicted some relief on the water situation in the North End this Summer. I hope he's right.

I took a half dozen dry baths last Summer. Had to brush my teeth with saliva and shaved in water hauled in from the country. Expressive drinking water.

If Mr. Culdea has a solution and he can solve the problem, at least partially, for this year I'll be one very happy person and a staunch supporter of the borough manager.

Good luck in your campaign to lick the water problem in the North End.

All Three Same Day!

The Missing Balloon...

★ RED LETTER DAY—Mrs. Stephen (Carolyn) Kulakowsky, Gilbertsville RD 1, was a happy woman when she gave birth to her first child almost seven years ago. The child was a boy, and his name is Kenneth Byron. You see, the baby arrived May 13, which is Mrs. Kulakowsky's birthday also. The two were 25 years apart. While Mrs. Kulakowsky was beaming over the arrival of her first born on her birthday, the attending physician, Dr. Lloyd C. Wademan, of West Reading, confided that May 13 also was his birthday. The baby was born in the Reading hospital and the doctor said it was the first baby he ever delivered on his birthday. The Kulakowskys lived in Reading then, moved to Gilbertsville RD 1 two and half years ago. The father is a radio and television serviceman. The couple has one other baby, another boy. He's Barry Lee, who missed the May red letter day by a couple of months. He was born in March, 1949, while his older brother was born in 1946.

WEATHER BALLOON—Mrs. Milton Lindemuth, Achin' Back Acres, Pottstown RD 1 found a U.S. Signal corps balloon in the garden near her home along Route 32, west of Route 100, yesterday morning. The balloon itself was burst. With it was a kite like object and a plastic covered container with some sort of mechanical works inside it. Since there was no message with it, Mrs. Lindemuth wasn't sure whether the signal corps wanted it mailed back, or whether it was simply a balloon that had strayed from some reservation.

★ ANXIOUS DAYS—The fighting lads in Korea are watching with anxious eyes the new truce talks after exulting with the return of prisoners of war. One such is Pvt. Linwood R. Shane, whose wife, Dorothy and parents Mr. and Mrs. George Angstadt live on Boyertown RD 2. Shane is serving in Korea with the 25th Infantry division. Now the senior American division on the peninsula, the 25th landed in July 1950, shortly after the Communists attacked the Republic of South Korea. An engineer in the 25th Replacement Company, Shane entered one Army last April and received basic training at Fort Belvoir, Va.

IN JAPAN—Pvt. Kenneth L. Moatz, whose wife, Janet, lives in Italy, is now serving in Japan with the First Cavalry division. Moatz, a heavy weapons infantryman, was last stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky. Private Moatz was employed by the Boyertown Burial Casket company before entering the Army in October, 1952. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moatz, live on Route 1, Boyertown. This item should arouse some argument. Researchers say the average time needed for the modern boss of the house to fix three meals a day is but two hours, in all.

★ CONVENTIONER—Clint Miller, former Pottstown borough councilman and now a household and salesman, will attend the Pennsylvania convention of the Travelers Protective association in Pottstown Thursday through Saturday. He expects to be elected a delegate to the national convention in Galveston, Texas, in June. Clothes made of luminescent cloth will be correct for summer outings. Tests now show that mosquitoes avoid luminescent fabrics. And of the luminescent stuffs, saun drew fewer bugs than any other cloth. Use a magnet if you suspect you're being haunted an exploding sogie. Most of the explosives now have small steel springs imbedded in them. Heat releases the spring and it shatters the sugar. A small magnet will detect that type of practical joke.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WE NOW KNOW that rheumatic fever is a disease that usually strikes in childhood or young adult life. Usually, there is a high temperature, the joints are red and swollen and there are some signs that the heart is affected along with the joints.

Many children get well from attacks of rheumatic fever and for many years seem perfectly normal. However it has been said of rheumatic fever that it is a disease which attacks the joints and bites the heart.

Rheumatic fever injures the heart by causing scar tissue to form on the valves inside the heart particularly the one known as the mitral valve which is most important for heart function.

When this scarring of the valve occurs it cannot function properly and the heart becomes tremendously enlarged. This may ultimately cause heart failure and death or make a permanent triple of the person with rheumatic heart disease unless treatment is carried out, including heart surgery when necessary.

Many methods have been devised to prevent rheumatic fever or to prevent the damage to the heart once it has occurred.

The swollen and inflamed joints can now be remarkably relieved with the use of cortisone. However, this drug seems to have little effect in preventing damage to the heart or in clearing up heart damage.

Recently a large group of patients with severe scarring of the mitral valve were operated on in order to relieve the heart damage.

In this operation the chest is opened and the scars of the valve are very carefully cut, permitting more normal function of the heart.

Many persons who were seriously short of breath, coughed up blood and suffered from actual heart failure, have been helped by this operation.

Though not a permanent cure it often helps to prolong the person's life and prevents some of the other symptoms of rheumatic heart disease from occurring.

You can't get away from the high cost of living by going to Alaska, a Pottstown dentist declared last night.

While the Klondike country is rich in natural resources it helps to be rich if you want to live there, Dr. Grant J. Rohrbach told St. John's Lutheran brotherhood.

Dr. Rohrbach, who was in Alaska in 1950 and 1951, illustrated his words with colored movies.

Following the talk, he held a question and answer period.

by the conference, three men being sent to new charges and three being reassigned.

Reached by telephone in Lebanon last night, the Rev. Floyd appeared to be relieved as the uncertainty about his future ended.

"We'll be coming home to Pottstown tonight," he said. "It's good to be coming back."

The young pastor had traveled to the conference yesterday after preaching on Sunday at First Evangelical, Allentown. It is customary had on "conference Sunday" for regular pastors to be absent from their pulpits, and for guest speakers to take their place.

Asked if he would have to do any unpacking men, the Rev. Floyd said he thought only "a few books and dishes."

Final preparations are not made for moving until the assignments are read, he explained. Pastors are usually allowed a week or two for moving.

IN THE CASE of the Rev. Floyd it appears that prayers were answered when he was reassigned to Trinity church.

The church bulletin recently carried this message to members: "You will need to pray about our conference. There is strong sentiment in favor of dropping the eight year rule and it will be voted upon there. May the best interests of all be served by the decision that is made."

There evidently was much interest here concerning the Rev. Floyd's assignment. Numerous calls reached the Mercury office last night inquiring about his future.

Growth of Trinity church has been steady during the eight years the Rev. Floyd has been in Pottstown.

Both Sunday school and church attendance climbed under his guidance, and new Sunday school departments and musical organizations were formed under the leadership of the pastor's wife. Physical improvements at the church in the eight year pastorate included the enlargement of the sanctuary and Sunday school rooms and the covering of the exterior of the church with a permanent stone facing.

down through the years is that the party renting for instance, the roller, also take in a "package" the highway department's own operator.

According to Runyan, "I never let the roller go out on a job without our own man to operate it."

HE EXPLAINED that some parties tried to rent the roller—small home owners—without the operator, in an effort to get the roller at a price they could afford. Runyan said he had to turn these people down.

"This is a protection for our equipment," he said.

There seems to be no apparent system for supervising the work of renting the equipment.

The past week, the roller had been working on a job for a private party—a "gas" station—on North Charlotte street.

The roller had been in operation for two days—Thursday and Friday—before Borough Manager Gulden knew about it.

Foreman Runyan explained that the roller is assigned to private jobs in one of two ways.

"Either the calls for rental come directly to me or they are made through the borough secretary's office. If the roller isn't tied up on the days it's required we rent it out."

Town Scouts Show Rosy Red Faces After Hikes and Projects in Hot Sun

By NORMAN REED
(Mercury Staff Writer)

There were plenty of red faces at Pottstown Scout meetings last night. They came from cases of sunburn picked up on hiking and camping trips over the warm week end.

The rosy glow enlivened faces of both Scouts and scoutmasters, as everyone, from young Tenderfeet to adult leaders had a part in the fun.

St. Aloysius troop 12 and Grace Lutheran troop 15 were the local units braving a hot sun and the threat of rain to take hikes the past Saturday.

Among adult leaders spending a weekend in the open were Robert B. Glenn, scoutmaster of Lime Creek Citizens troop 1 and Edward W. Jameson, scoutmaster of St. James Lutheran troop 18.

THE TWO MEN, scoutmaster and assistant, respectively, of Pottstown's Continental district jamboree troop, went to Camp Delmont, near Sumnerstown, where they camped out on Saturday and Sunday with 130 other jamboree troop leaders from the Valley Forge council area and other areas of the Third Region.

Troop 12 Scouts, 19 of them, but the trail at 9 a. m. Saturday to "Palladium's" grove where they hacked away at underbrush to clear a future campsite.

After standing over a hot ax for a few hours the more adventurous members of the troop cooled themselves with a swim in a nearby creek.

Scoutmaster Robert E. Manger, who acknowledged that he had picked up his share of sunburn on the eight-mile jaunt, passed all 19 Scouts on their hiking requirement for Second Class rank.

Scouts on the hike carried all food and equipment they would need on their backs. At the camp-on the outside of the tent and you're on the inside, it makes you look as though you've turned green," Jameson remarked last night.

The jamboree leaders spent the two days in camp getting instruction on the latest camp lore and in getting acquainted.

SCOUTMASTER JAMESON remarked that he also had made a close acquaintance with Old Sol at Delmont.

"I don't mind a little burn, though," he explained. "California is reported to have temperatures of 103 degrees in the summer, so it's not a bad idea to get a little tan before you go there."

He said the leaders were told that the Santa Ana site of the Third National Jamboree was completely bare of shade trees.

"Bare of everything else, too," he said. "Jameson said with a grin, 'There won't even be a bush to crawl under.'"

So what shade the jamboree Scouts will have will be provided by their tents. Jameson and Gilmour brought four wooden chests, home from Delmont with them, each of which contains five of the greenish shelters issued by the Valley Forge council.

The chests and tents will be painted and decorated by the 33 jamboree Scouts from the Pottstown area. Jameson said.

OTHER TROOPS began last night to brush up on their medical knowledge in preparation for the district first aid meet on May 23 at Ursinus college, Collegeville.

Each troop has received a list of ten emergency problems to study, of which five will be assigned for demonstration during the meet.

The meet will be sponsored by the local Red Cross organization, which offers eight-week instruction courses to district troops.

Among troops reviewing first aid last night were First Presbyterian troop 3, Zion's Reformed troop 5, and St. James Lutheran troop 15.

Area troops also began last night to sign up their Scouts for stays at Camp Delmont this summer.

stays at Camp Delmont this summer.

FIRST METHODIST troop 4 confined its short meeting to patrol corners and patrol leaders' reports, as the meeting room was scheduled for other use later in the evening.

Peter Stahl, David Emery and Edward Whitby were the leaders who turned in reports to Scoutmaster Daniel Pettigrew.

American Legion troop 1 spent most of the evening delivering 700 circulars for the Pottstown Memorial park drive that begins on May 11.

Firestone troop 19 Scouts spent the evening placing identification stakes on garden plots of plant employees along Firestone drive.

His appearance, part of the club's observance of United States-Canada week, has been arranged by the reception committee, of which John Fraser, is chairman.

The business session will be in charge of William D. Mower, president.

Pennsylvania Diners Get Calorie Conscious

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad announced an innovation today in its dining system—a meal for dieters.

The meal consists of 470 calories contained in tomato juice, broiled chopped sirloin of beef with carrots, a lettuce salad with a non-fattening dressing, two crackers, a half grapefruit and tea or coffee with a saccharin pill.

The railroad did not say whether the travelers whose will power might be stronger than appetites will be subjected to the temptation of reading a full-fledged menu while searching for this "stream-lined" meal.

SOCIAL STUDIES PUPILS LEARN ABOUT MEXICO
 Members of Class Give Reports on History of Country
 By BARRY RHODES
 In social studies in Mr. Ferdin... hand's room we studied Mexico. We had reports on the history, transportation, sports, government, education, geography and the music of Mexico.
 We had reports on the history of Mexico by Gerald Haring, Kenneth Strop, and Charles Gaugler. We learned from their reports that Mexico is four times as large as Spain. During the three hundred years of Spanish rule in Mexico the civilization practically stood still.
 We had reports on the transportation by Barry Rhoads, Albert Boerner and Richard Spayd. From their reports we learned that in Mexico a person can see different forms of transportation that date from each of the various periods of its history.
 Before the coming of the white man the Indians had no wheeled cars and no beasts of burden. To day as in earlier days much of the produce is carried to market on the backs of men who walk along trails that have been in use since before the Spanish conquest.
 WE HAD A REPORT on the sports of Mexico by Larry Gerhart. We learned that bull fighting is the national game of the Spanish and Mexicans. The bull fighting season begins in April and ends in November. Bullfights take place in a kind of arena or circus.
 We had a report on the government of Mexico by Larry Gerhart. We learned from his report that the president is popularly elected for six years and ineligible to succeed himself. He governs with a cabinet of his appointed ministers.
 We had reports on the education by Virginia Messer, Dorothy Clemmer and Pearl Rhodes. We learned from their reports that before 1910 less than one quarter of the children of Mexico went to school.
 In the rural sections there were almost no schools at all. At that time, hardly one person out of four or five could read or write.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By FRED SELBY and NORMAN FORBES

Back in 1918, Floyd J. Sisto found himself in an Army outfit that took a great interest in horses. Now he helps run an organization that takes the same kind of interest in horsepower—but without the horses.

The first was the U.S. Cavalry, in which he served for three years in Panama when he was "just a kid."

Floyd J. Sisto

"I was 17 when I started my three-year hitch," he recalled, smiling. "And it seemed like there were more horses than men in my outfit—a averaged about 2½ per soldier, I believe."

Sisto thought there should be more interesting things in the world than currying horses, and for him, there were.

Today, as vice president, treasurer, general manager and director of Jacobs Aircraft Engine company, he spends much of his time traveling around the country in a "flying red horse" with the power of 300 horses behind its propeller.

His favorite steed is a five passenger comfortable cabin plane that stands in the company's hangar at its new airport in Limerick.

The airfield was once a farm and when the company bought the property, Sisto and his wife moved into the comfortable stone farm house which they had renovated.

But being an executive of a firm that sells engines to customers in all parts of the country keeps him from being a stay at home.

The heavy set, dark-haired vice president has logged about 1000 hours in the air so far.

"Of course, that doesn't include all the times I've flown as a passenger," he added. "You only count the time you're at the controls when you add up solo hours."

Sisto doesn't think flying is as dangerous as driving a car these days.

"There's plenty of room up there yet," he explained in his genial manner. "It's not like on the ground—where you have 50,000 cars."

An aerial jaunt Sisto enjoyed recently was a tour conducted by the department of national defense. He was one of 70 leaders of business, labor and industry who were invited to go along.

The tour was a civilian orientation conference during which the men made practice parachute jumps, traveled underwater in a submarine, rode in jet planes and watched military maneuvers.

"It's quite an experience riding a jet," Sisto recalled. "but I don't think they'll be the average man's airplane just yet. They're far from distance flying."

Helicopters are more suitable to the family trade, he believes.

The "aerial eggbeaters" are one of his hobbies, along with flying golf, and more flying.

Sisto was director of a sugar company near Vera Cruz, Mexico for a few years in the middle 30s, but since his first plane ride in 1927 he had known his future was in the air. He had been with Barium Steel company, with which Jacobs is affiliated, ten years when he came to Pottstown in 1950.

His two daughters are surrounded too. Gloria Maria, 24, and Yolanda, 22, are both pilots. Yolanda is also a stewardess with Pan American Airways.

Sisto is a native of Orange, N. J., and still owns a home there.

His wider interests are represented by such membership cards as those he holds in the Air Force association, the American Helicopter Society, the Society of American Military Engineers, the American Ordnance association, the Wings club and the National Airplane Owners and Pilots association.

LIKE GRANDFATHER, like father, like son
That's the new twist put on the old adage by 26-year old John Lewis Schulz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Schulz, Park court.

Charles Schulz is president of the Schulz Baking company, the largest bread company in the Pottstown area.

John L. Schulz

The company was founded in 1902 by the grandfather of the three generations John Lewis Schulz.

And now 26-year old "Jack" is following in the tradition.

The day after graduation from college the past June Jack started his full time career in the company. He was recently made sales manager of a force that includes 55 persons.

The thriving business was founded in 1902 and has been located at Walnut and Warren streets since.

It started out in a small way with grandfather Schulz in charge of the bakery and George Russell now treasurer of the company, selling bread from a basket.

Young Jack was born in Pottstown March 28, 1927.

He attended Pottstown public schools and in his Senior year at the High school transferred to the Pennsylvania Military college's preparatory school.

He went into the Navy and after boot training, was made a baker. Strangely enough, he was put in charge of the cakes and pres. division, items that the Schulz company does not put out.

After 16 months in the Navy, from which he was discharged as a seaman 1c, he went to Pennsylvania Military college. He graduated the past June with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English.

At prep school he had played basketball and football, and in college took part in intra-mural sports and was a member of Pi Mu Chi fraternity.

Jack has learned his father's business from the ground up. Since the age of 14—on weekends and during Summers—he worked in the bakery at shipping, baking, and selling on trucks.

Since graduation from college he has done merchandising work including demonstrations in stores, and has been concentrating on opening up new business in stores and restaurants in the area.

Unmarried, he's a member of Stichter Lodge 254, Free and Accepted Order of Masons; Brookside Country club, George A. Amode Post 47, American Legion, Pottstown Post 23, Amvets, and First Methodist church.

Interested in all sports, he plans to spend a lot of time sharpening up his golf game this Summer.

Of his business he pointed out that bread is a tough item to "sell." "People figure that 'bread is bread.' What you have to give the customer is service and salesmanship. I really like the selling end. I get a lot out of it. If you don't, I guess you might as well get out of the business."

He's interested in the technical side of the business, too, "but you can work at those figures all day, but they don't mean a thing if you're not moving the stuff."

Quiet-spoken like his father, Jack has a quick, ready laugh characteristic of the Schulz's.

Some day, he says, he may go to the American Institute of Baking in Chicago.

This, too, would be following a tradition. His father graduated from the same institute.

How does it feel to be the boss' son?

"It has its pros and cons. In most respects a father boss expects better work of the son-employee than is the case in the usual boss employee relationship."

Brotherhood Group To Mark Oldest Member's Birthday

The oldest living member of St. James Lutheran church will get an unusually fine cake, even for a birthday cake, when he is visited Sunday by a delegation from the Men's Brotherhood of the church.

He is Jacob Snell, who will be 92 years old next Tuesday. He was a Pottstown iron worker and lived for many years at 1145 Queen street.

A year ago, he went to a private home for the aged in Malvern, Chester county.

The cake will be baked by Paul Klaus, Pottstown RD 5, who is president of the brotherhood and also a professional pastry baker. The delegation will leave the church Sunday at 2 p. m.

Snell, who also is a charter member of the church, has a daughter, Mrs. Horace Shellenberger 831 South street and a son, Phil Snell, Pottstown RD 4.

SENATE REJECTS
US OWNERSHIP
OF TIDELANDSFederal Control Amendment
Is Thumped Down in 56 to 33 Vote

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The Senate booted out of the way today a proposal to substitute Federal control for the States' ownership provisions of the Submerged Offshore Lands bill.

It voted 56 to 33 to table a Federal control amendment offered by Senator Anderson (D-NM). Advocates of states ownership of the offshore areas hailed the ballot as an indication that eventually the bill will be passed by an even greater margin with no important changes.

Just when the vote on final passage of the bill will come was still a guess, but leaders on both sides of the controversy saw possibility of an end to the debate by the end of this week.

SENATE REPUBLICAN leader Taft of Ohio, who contends that all of the pertinent arguments have been brought out over and over again in the debate, which started April 1, has threatened around-the-clock sessions if some agreement isn't reached soon on when there will be a final vote.

Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told newsmen all-night session would be started tomorrow.

Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) who set a Senate filibustering record of 22½ hours last week, threatened continuation of the talk about the bill.

"There is a determination on the part of some of us to continue the fight in opposition to this bill for as many days and weeks as we think necessary to fully enlighten the people about this bill," he declared.

Allied Delegation Threatens to Drop
Talks Unless Reds Change Position

RANMUNJOM, TUESDAY, April 28 (AP)—Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr. today threatened to suspend once more the Korean armistice talks—revived only three days ago—unless the Communist produce something constructive.

The senior Allied armistice delegate opened the third day's meeting with the statement: "We do not intend to become involved in protracted and useless arguments."

He repeated his statement of yesterday that the Communist proposal for the neutral nation handling of prisoners reluctant to go home was "unacceptable."

"From your experience in previous negotiations with us, you should be well aware that we mean what we say," he told the Reds firmly.

THE ALLIES twice—on Sunday and Monday—rejected a Communist proposal to send to a neutral nation all prisoners refusing repatriation after an armistice in Korea.

There, the Communists added, representatives of Red China and North Korea could "explain" matters to the prisoners. Harrison said yesterday it would be an indirect way of eventually forcing Communist prisoners to return home.

Harrison opened with this statement today:

"This is the third day of our meeting. The proposal which you set forth in your statement of April 26 is neither reasonable nor constructive. It was our hope that we might be able to agree on a reasonable and honorable armistice which would protect the human rights of the prisoners of war that caused us to consent to resume meetings of the full delegation."

"It still remains our hope. If you sincerely desire an armistice on this basis, you have failed thus far to give any indication of such and objective."

PRESIDENT SETS
LOYALTY CODE
FOR US WORKERSNew Plan Is Scheduled
To Be Operating
Next Month

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower set up today a tight new security program intended to make sure that the millions of Federal employees have "complete and unswerving loyalty to the United States."

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) called it "a pretty darn good program."

The new plan goes into operation May 27. It provides for a security test of some kind for everyone appointed to a Government job, from snow shoveler to atomic energy technician. The strictness of the investigation will vary according to the nature of the job.

Anybody seeking a "sensitive position"—one in which he could bring about "a material adverse effect on the national security"—will have to come through a full-scale investigation under rigid, sweeping standards laid down by the President in an executive order. Persons now holding sensitive jobs will be re-checked in the light of these standards.

THE EISENHOWER order stresses "the American tradition that all persons should receive fair, impartial and equitable treatment." Yet Attorney General Brownell concluded it still would be possible that a Federal worker could be fired as a security risk without ever knowing the exact nature of the charges against him or the name of his accuser.

The Eisenhower program junks the loyalty-security system erected under former President Truman and is pegged entirely to security as to get at loyalty cases and to overcome some deficiencies of the old plan.

The move—unprecedented in the Korean war—was aimed at disrupting the combat efficiency of the Communist air force.

The US Far East commander in chief guaranteed the safety of each refugee pilot, and asylum in a country without Communist domination.

Clark's appeal was broadcast in Russian, Chinese and Korean languages by army radio and dropped in leaflets by Allied planes over North Korea.

THE LEAFLETS carried a picture of Franciszek Jarewski, a Polish flyer who flew a Communist MIG-15 to Denmark and was given political asylum the past month.

Jarewski is now in Munich, broadcasting over Radio Free Europe to Polish youth. He is leaving for the US and said he would go to Korea to fight against Communism if accepted in the US Air Force.

The announcement referred to the "Communist air force," presumably the Chinese and North Korean air force.

POWS TO HEAD
FOR HOMELANDFreed Prisoners to Leave
Japanese Hospitals
This Week

TOKYO, TUESDAY, April 28 (AP)—The first of the US sick and wounded prisoners returned by the Communists head homeward this week.

LATE BULLETIN
TOKYO, TUESDAY, April 28 (AP)—The first group of repatriated American prisoners of the Korean war will leave by plane from Haneda airport for the US late today.

The exact time has not yet been announced. The prisoners still are in the Army hospitals in Tokyo. But the United Nations command said some would leave by plane within the next few days.

Their first stop on American soil will be Hawaii, where they will be kept in a military hospital for about 24 hours. Then they will resume the flight home.

With the narrowing days in Communist captivity behind them, some of the sick and wounded sat in the hospitals and talked calmly of mistreatment and Communist attempts at indoctrination.

Cpl. Harry E. Purvis, York, S. C., repeated early assertions of some returned that a few American prisoners turned informers. Purvis said there were 15 "pro-Communists" in his camp who "hung around with the Chinese" and tipped off escape plots.

PURVIS SAID he escaped from a camp near the Yalu river, but was recaptured by North Korean soldiers "who slapped me, kicked me and tied me up." After that he was in solitary confinement for six months and no one spoke to him except a Chinese who lectured on Communism.

Negroes told of Communist attempts to make racial propaganda. Corp. Robert Dunn, Muskogee, Okla., a prisoner for six months, said the Communists tried to get him to make a recording saying "colored people don't get the breaks in the states." He refused.

GOP Leaders Pare
Sales Tax 1 Percent
In Effort to Pass Bill

HARRISBURG, April 27 (AP)—The Republican-controlled House tonight reduced the rate of its stalled sales tax to 1 percent in a new move to line up enough votes to pass it.

In another compromise gesture the life of the levy was fixed at two years, leaving to the 1955 Legislature the question of continuing it, should the tax be finally passed at this session.

But there was no certainty the disputed tax bill would be called up for a vote tomorrow in its latest revised form. It has been in position for a vote for a month and has come to the point of a roll call several times—but without action.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, voiced confidence again the bill would pass, but said the GOP majority would "count hands" at a closed session tomorrow before the House formal meeting.

Boiler Room Blast Kills Eleven Men
Aboard US Navy Carrier Bennington

GUANTANAMO, Cuba, April 27 (AP)—The US Navy base at Guantanamo reported tonight that 11 men were killed and four injured in an accident aboard the 27,000-ton US aircraft carrier Bennington.

Navy headquarters in Washington said the carrier had suffered a boiler accident and that the full extent of the damage had not been ascertained.

The carrier, one of the Essex class, was operating off Guantanamo bay at the time of the accident. Later she was pulled up alongside the docks.

Names of the casualties have been withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The Bennington, built Feb. 26, 1944, has a displacement of 27,000 tons. She carried a normal complement of 2900 officers and men.

Entry Policy Check
Asked by President

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower has asked Congress to re-examine the country's immigration policy "with a view to achieving legislation which would be fair and just to all."

He told the Senate that he has received a great many complaints that the McCarran-Walter Immigration act, passed after a furious Senate fight the past year, contains "many serious and inequitable restrictions."

The President's position was made public today by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of a judiciary committee on immigration.

Watkins released an April 6 letter from Eisenhower which indicated the President favors a fundamental revision of the McCarran-Walter act.

15 Miners Rescued

HARLAN, Ky., April 27 (AP)—Fifteen miners were rescued without injury today at the Monarch mine of the Blue Diamond Coal company, where a fire was reported early this afternoon.

Sharpie Leaves Gls Holding Bags

DALLAS, April 27 (AP)—Forty-four private cars from Fort Hood, Tex., were left holding their traveling bags at Love field today, and it looked as though they had been cleaned out of $5000.

The group—members of the 16th company of combat engineers at North Fort Hood—bought tickets for a chartered plane ride from Dallas city airport to Ft. Lewis, Tacoma, Wash. The plane was to leave here at 8 a. m. today.

Neither the "ticket salesman" nor the airliner was anywhere to be seen. Officials at Love field said the airline supposedly represented closed its offices at the airport on April 15 and stopped flights out of Dallas.

Pvt. James R. Lindsey, 21, of Henrietta, Tex., said a man sold the tickets at Ft. Hood April 9 to 12. Each man paid $113 in cash. They were on orders to Ft. Lewis.

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

New white asbestos siding put on the past year gives a new look to this cottage-like home of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Slobodin at 406 North Manatawny street (near Fifth street). Slobodin did much of the siding work himself. The house was built 14 years ago. Of the pretty garden and decorations around it, Mrs. Slobodin remarked, "They take a lot of work." By the fence are their 4-year-old daughter, Shirley Ann, and their 3-year-old son, Dennis. Downstairs are the living room with fireplace, kitchen-dinette combination, bedroom and bath. Upstairs is another large bedroom. The house has a full basement. Slobodin is a tire production worker for Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

General Clark Offers
Sanctuary, $50,000
COD for Red MIG's

TOKYO, Tuesday, April 28 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark Monday night offered $50,000 reward to every Communist flier who delivers a Russian-built jet to the Allies, and promised an extra bonus of $50,000 to the first Red airman to fly to freedom.

The move—unprecedented in the Korean war—was aimed at disrupting the combat efficiency of the Communist air force.

The US Far East commander in chief guaranteed the safety of each refugee pilot, and asylum in a country without Communist domination.

Clark's appeal was broadcast in Russian, Chinese and Korean languages by army radio and dropped in leaflets by Allied planes over North Korea.

THE LEAFLETS carried a picture of Franciszek Jarewski, a Polish flyer who flew a Communist MIG-15 to Denmark and was given political asylum the past month.

Jarewski is now in Munich, broadcasting over Radio Free Europe to Polish youth. He is leaving for the US and said he would go to Korea to fight against Communism if accepted in the US Air Force.

The announcement referred to the "Communist air force," presumably the Chinese and North Korean air force.

Marilyn Monroe Calendar Art? Question Deadlocks Jury

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Is a nude on the rocks any nuder than Marilyn Monroe on a red plush robe?

Attorney O. John Rogge doesn't think so, but the jury to whom he put it squarely today in State Supreme court deadlocked on that question.

The famed Monroe calendar nude was waved in front of the jury of ten men and two women to compare for alleged obscenity with pictures in nudist cult magazines.

"This calendar is sold all over town," said Rogge, while courtroom spectators swung their heads back and forth like tennis fans.

"It is widely circulated and is not regarded as obscene. The only difference between this picture and a magazine showing a nudist is that the nudist is sitting on a rock and Marilyn Monroe is sitting on a red plush robe," which has plunging necklines, strapless evening gowns, the sarong, the Bikini bathing suit and the strip tease is mature enough not to regard these publications as obscene.

"Nudism checks rather than stimulates lust. The purpose of clothing is not always to conceal the body."

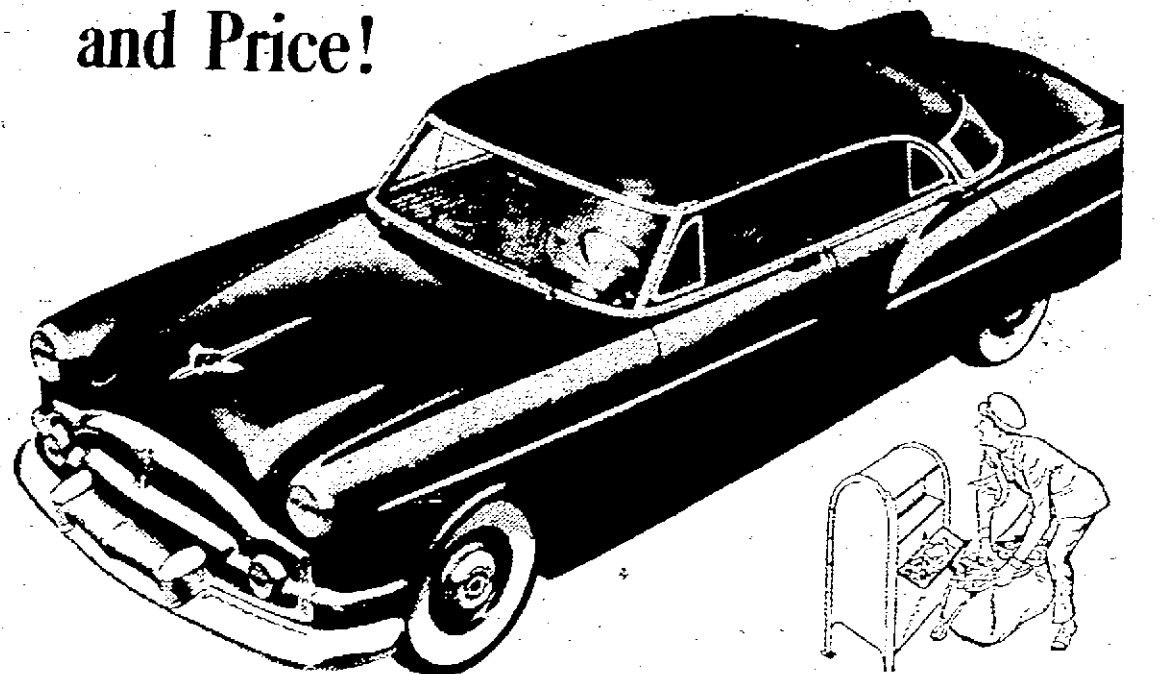

"Some girls don't wear sweaters only to keep warm." An hour and a half later the jury, hopelessly deadlocked, was discharged.

ROGGE DECLARED in his summation: "I contend that a community

"I contend that a community

"I contend that a community

Summer styles with a French flavor will be shown tonight at the Pottstown Woman's club "April in Paris" fashion show at 8:15 o'clock in the Die Caster's club.

Wonder Fabrics Live in Windows of America

Windows are for drama. All the lovely emphasis on those peepholes from our abodes should make the amateur decorator happy.

New curtains and drapery fabrics portray the elegance of expensive counterparts but are cheaper and require little upkeep.

Take the new budget-priced cord-weave draperies.

These are made of twisted fibers resembling heavy twine, treated with plastic and woven with strong cotton threads which form a horizontal stripe.

They have the advantage of custom-made draperies, because with a snap of the scissors you can cut them off from the bottom to the exact window length you require.

New glass curtains are perfected so they will not rot any more than a window pane would. They will not sag or shrink, and even lovely patterns of these roller print (Fiberglas) draperies are translucent.

Decorative casement fabrics of acrylic fiber (Orlon) possess an interesting slub texture, resembling shantung, but have the advantages of better washability and wearability.

Serve Toasted Tidbits Topped by Cheese Mix

Bridge, tea or luncheon sandwiches are always a delicate task. Try using a fancy cookie cutter of seasonal design to cut buttered whole wheat or rye bread into shapes. Toast them.

Spread the toasty tidbits with a frosting made one one-half pound of dried beef, one package of cream cheese, a dash of horseradish, a few finely chopped almonds and one tablespoon of minced onion.

Serve them with a molded ring of tomato aspic, cottage cheese and a side dish of buttered peas and mushrooms.

Long Way From Sept. 30

Phillies Great Start Stirs Pennant Talk; Players in Top Condition Says O'Neil

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—Why? Well, Steve O'Neil, the Philadelphia Phillies' manager, doesn't actually expect the team to win the National League pennant, but he says it is a long way from Sept. 30, the date the season starts in earnest. O'Neil says the team is in top condition and has won more games than it has lost.

FORD FRICK

Ford Frick Issues Stern Warning Against Gambling

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, taking official cognizance of clubhouse games for high stakes, issued a stern warning to all 16 major league clubs today against gambling and association with gamblers.

Frick's warning was hailed by club officials and managers who promised that every possible step would be taken to comply with his edict. All insisted, however, that no gambling look place on their clubs.

In a bulletin Frick ordered posted in all clubhouses for all officials and players to see, the commissioner called attention to the "evil of permitting card games among your players where the stakes are high." He said he had information that some players were losing more money than they could afford.

FRICK ALSO charged that players have frequently been seen in "gambling joints operating within a stone's throw from the park," and warned that players or club employees who are found to be gambling will be declared ineligible immediately.

"It's a darn sight better to head them off before something happens," Frick said, "than it is to take drastic action, such as expulsion, after it happens."

"I think it is right," said Manager Marty Marion of the St. Louis Browns. "Baseball players should stay away from gamblers. The game has never been touched by gamblers. This is just a reminder to be on guard."

The Browns' pilot said there is no gambling by his players on road trips.

E. J. (Buzze) Bavasi, vice-president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said the club has stopped card playing for high stakes two years ago.

Vice-president Charles Feeney of the New York Giants said Manager Leo Durocher already had cautioned the players about association with gamblers.

BOSTON RED SOX Manager Lou Boudreau said he knew the bulletin "isn't applicable to the Red Sox," but "as a matter of routine," he called his players' attention to it.

Other comments: Al Lopez, manager, Cleveland Indians: "That's nothing new. We've always had a rule on our club that nobody should play cards of any kind for anything but minor stakes."

Gabe Paul, general manager, Cincinnati Reds: "The bulletin was a normal thing I know nothing of high stakes gambling among our players. Most clubs take steps themselves to stop such a thing."

Hughes Named: WHEELING, W. Va., April 27 (AP)—C. W. Hughes of Washington, Pa., was named today as associate steward of Wheeling Downs race track. The annual meeting will open Friday and continue through May 30.

More TV Games Set by NCAA Plan

KANSAS CITY, April 27 (AP)—Television football fans will get to see a greater number of games—no more than one a week—under the plan of continued controls proposed today by the TV committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The program, which now goes to the association for approval through a mail vote, calls for 13 dates—ten or 11 full games involving topflight teams from each geographic section of the country and two or three other attractions, termed a "panorama experiment."

This experiment, an innovation in the 1953 plan, would offer parts of four widely separate games all in one afternoon.

Evening practices are currently being held at 6 p. m. each evening on the Spring City High field and in about a week the four squads of 15 boys each will be chosen by Marshall, Bambridge, Ferguson and Newark, the respective managers.

According to recognized Little League standards each team will have 15 players and 10 coaches.

Exhibition Game: Ringling Hall and Knauertown will tee off at 6:15 this evening in an exhibition baseball game on the Cubs' home grounds. The hosts are entered in the Suburban circuit, while the Knauertowners are preparing for French Creek Valley league play.

Hughes Named: WHEELING, W. Va., April 27 (AP)—C. W. Hughes of Washington, Pa., was named today as associate steward of Wheeling Downs race track. The annual meeting will open Friday and continue through May 30.

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—Why? Well, Steve O'Neil, the Philadelphia Phillies' manager, doesn't actually expect the team to win the National League pennant, but he says it is a long way from Sept. 30, the date the season starts in earnest. O'Neil says the team is in top condition and has won more games than it has lost.

To Steven, that's why the Phils have racked up three in a row and the Pittsburgh Pirates four times after edging the New York Giants one week ago to start the string.

Discussing his Spring training strategy, which has paid off handsomely in the opening days of the season, Steve puts it this way: "I wanted everyone in excellent physical shape, to be strong and ready to play topnotch baseball. But I didn't want any of 'em tired. That's why I alternated rookies and regulars so often. Some of the big fellows needed more work, but then they also needed more rest. And they got it."

"It WAS sorta like football coaches who say they try to get their team sharp for one or two big games. I had to get my team sharp for a 154 game schedule and I know what the heat of July and August can do to a fellow who's in perfect shape let alone what happens to a guy who's tired before the season opens."

This approach has developed the team so that some interesting statistics are available:

- 1. Five of the eight regulars are hitting above .300. They obviously won't keep their averages that high for the rest of the season but they're meeting the ball solidly and hitters are always supposed to be behind the pitchers in the Spring.
- 2. The Phils have hit at least one home run in their last 10 games. In two games they've had two and on Saturday they tagged Pirate pitching for three.
- 3. The big four of the mound staff, Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons, Karl Drews and Jim Konstanty, have hurled effectively with Roberts winning three games in seven days and going the distance each time. Simmons faltered a bit Saturday but reliever Andy Hansen slammed the door on a Pirates rally.

This approach has developed the team so that some interesting statistics are available:

- 1. Five of the eight regulars are hitting above .300. They obviously won't keep their averages that high for the rest of the season but they're meeting the ball solidly and hitters are always supposed to be behind the pitchers in the Spring.
- 2. The Phils have hit at least one home run in their last 10 games. In two games they've had two and on Saturday they tagged Pirate pitching for three.
- 3. The big four of the mound staff, Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons, Karl Drews and Jim Konstanty, have hurled effectively with Roberts winning three games in seven days and going the distance each time. Simmons faltered a bit Saturday but reliever Andy Hansen slammed the door on a Pirates rally.

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—Why? Well, Steve O'Neil, the Philadelphia Phillies' manager, doesn't actually expect the team to win the National League pennant, but he says it is a long way from Sept. 30, the date the season starts in earnest. O'Neil says the team is in top condition and has won more games than it has lost.

To Steven, that's why the Phils have racked up three in a row and the Pittsburgh Pirates four times after edging the New York Giants one week ago to start the string.

Discussing his Spring training strategy, which has paid off handsomely in the opening days of the season, Steve puts it this way: "I wanted everyone in excellent physical shape, to be strong and ready to play topnotch baseball. But I didn't want any of 'em tired. That's why I alternated rookies and regulars so often. Some of the big fellows needed more work, but then they also needed more rest. And they got it."

"It WAS sorta like football coaches who say they try to get their team sharp for one or two big games. I had to get my team sharp for a 154 game schedule and I know what the heat of July and August can do to a fellow who's in perfect shape let alone what happens to a guy who's tired before the season opens."

Lulu Perez, Perez of Brooklyn made a bold bid for the big time tonight when he came from far behind to floor Corky Gonzales twice and score a unanimous 10-round decision over the sixth-ranked featherweight from Denver at the Eastern Parkway Arena. Perez weighed 125½ to 129 for Gonzales.

It was the 12th straight victory for Perez, who turned 29 Saturday and thus became eligible for his first 10-round bout. The loss snapped a five-fight win streak for Gonzales.

Outclassed through the early going, by the clever, experienced 24-year-old Westerner, Perez took the play away in the sixth when he staggered his swarthy foe with two successive left hooks to the chin. From then on it was all Perez.

IN THE SEVENTH the classy youngster dropped Corky for nine with a right to the jaw. Gonzales just barely beat the count. In the eighth and ninth rounds Lulu shook Gonzales again with right hands and in the tenth he decked Gonzales again for a count of eight with another right to the jaw.

The votes, all for Perez, were: Referee Barney Felix, 6-1; Judge Joe Aguello, 8-2; and Judge Joe Epp, 6-1. The AP card had Perez in front 6-4.

TWO OLD FRIENDS were roughing it on a camping trip in Northern Wisconsin. One was taking a morning dip in the lake when the other called out from inside the tent, "Say, Tom, have you got a good memory for faces?" "Why, yes," answered Tom. "But why bring that up now?" "I wanted to make sure you could remember your own face when you snave it," was the explanation. "I just busted our only mirror."

The elevator operators at the Detroit Athletic Club are pugnacious and members like to exchange badinage with them. "Charley" Hughes tells of one guest who fancied himself a Life-of-the-Party boy. He patted one sveite operator familiarly and quipped, "Your career is full of ups and downs, isn't it?" The blonde responded promptly with, "It isn't the ups and downs I mind, it's just the jerks!" The airy guest subsided meekly.

anniversary sale

Prices are lower! Selections are wider!

It was the year President Grant was nominated that Justus C. Strawbridge and Isaac H. Clothier first began to serve the great Philadelphia area... in accordance with principles of storekeeping so sound, so fair, and so successful they remain virtually unchanged today in our four stores (and in good stores all over America). Unchanged, too, is the purpose of Strawbridge & Clothier's greatest sales event of the year. Each anniversary time it becomes our self-imposed obligation to give to our legion of customers and friends widespread opportunities for solid substantial money-saving in every department in every one of our four convenient locations. This is not a token celebration with old or odd lots reduced here and there, but a truly tremendous storewide presentation of new, timely, desirable merchandise marked at prices which neither we nor any other store could afford to offer the year 'round!

Storewide savings in all our four stores!

To do this demands countless weeks and months of planning and scouring the markets by our merchandise experts, painstaking hours of checking and rechecking every Sale item to be sure it merits its famous red and white sign that signals value extraordinary! New purchases of spring and summer needs for your family and your home are brimming our floors; scores of time-tested, nationally advertised brands have been reduced just for this event. Watch your newspaper for new savings daily, but remember, there are thousands more unadvertised, many extra surprises for early shoppers. Remember, too, Strawbridge & Clothier's famous, flexible credit terms offer you many easy, convenient ways to enjoy your purchases now while saving! When has there been a better time to open a Strawbridge & Clothier charge account than during Philadelphia's greatest money-saving event?

Tehran Jail Holds 2 More Suspects In Slaying of Nation's Police Chief

TEHRAN, Iran, April 27 (U)—Two more persons, including a retired army captain, were arrested today in connection with the kidnap slaying of Iran's national police chief. The number held in the case reached 14.

Col. Hoesseingholi Ashrafi, military governor of Tehran, in a communique last night, blamed a group of retired army officers and Government opponents for the slaying of the police chief, Brig. Gen. Mahmood Afshartus.

Afshartus disappeared the night of April 20. His body was found yesterday in a shallow roadside gully near Tehran. A rope was around his neck, his hands and feet were bound, and his mouth was stuffed with handkerchiefs. Medical examiners said he had died at least five days ago—probably from strangulation, on April 20.

Sharpshooting Fish Practice on Bulbs

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27 (U)—A bunch of sharpshooters are giving the maintenance man at the Steinhart aquarium of the California Academy of Sciences a hard time.

They are archer fish, a warm water tropical species. They are shooting out the lights over their aquarium tank with disconcerting regularity.

The 300 watt bulbs were installed over the archer fish tanks both for light and warmth. The strong lights also keep the fish awake and they don't like it.

To put out the bulbs, the archers get a mouth full of water, move up to the surface, take aim and squirt—and the light goes out.

Director Robert Miller is experimenting with a shield to protect the bulbs.
